AT THE INTELLIGENCE OFFICE.

By Amy Randolph.

'You don't care for me, Lucy!'

Miss Lucy Taylor put one little taper finger meditatively up to her blue veined temple and affected to think deeply on the subject.

'Care for you, Carl? N-no, I don't think I do—that is, very much!'

Carl Wicklow bit his moustached lip with unavailing wrath and vexation, as the arch blue sparkle of the lovely eyes met his! What a bright, coquettish specimen of the female butterfly she was, that gold-haired blonde, with her long eyelashes and coral lips and skin like rose-shadowed wax? Carl Wicklow could feel the invisible chains tightening around his heart, even while the firey impulses of masculine pride urged him to snap them in sunder, and assert himself heart-whole.

'Lucy!'

'Well, Mr. Wicklow!'

(The question short, sharp and imperative—the answer demure in the highest degree.)

'Will you listen to me seriously, for just half-a-minute?'

'Presently, Carl. I've forgotten all about my poor, dear, little Canary.'

Carl bit his lip again.

'Oh, hang your Canary!'

'That's just what I'm going to do—up among the climbing roses in the porch, where pussy can't by any possibility get at him.'

'Lucy, I am in no mood to be trifled with.'

'That's almost a pity, isn't it, now?' responded Miss Taylor. 'For, to tell you the truth, I never felt more inclined to tease and trifle in the whole course of my life.'

'Miss Taylor,' said Carl, gravely and sternly. 'I Will be listened to!'

'And I won't listen! so there!'

In her pretty, girlish spirit of defiance, mingled with a rising spirit of anger, Lucy Taylor fluttered through the wide open door, where the rippling tides of the June sunshine crowned her with misty gold, as she passed—and disappeared.

Carl Wicklow stood looking after her, with a brow that had blanched to a dull, deadly whiteness, for a single moment. Then he, too, turned away and walked silently down the little path among the velvet-green meadows, where a tiny rivulet ran gurgling all the way by his side in a voiceless refrain, which he, in the bitterness of his soul, interpreted into the mocking words of the ballad:

"Beware! trust her not!
She is fooling thee!"

Oh, Carl Wicklow! Carl Wicklow! what a dunce you were in the great mystery of a girl's heart!

'Isn't Mr. Wicklow to be here to-night?'

Lucy Taylor asked the question carelessly, as she stood before the mirror twisting a spray of spicy honeysuckle among her bright curls, with half-a-dozen village girls chattering around her, as only village girls can chatter.

'Mr. Wicklow! Why, didn't you know? Haven't you heard?'

'Heard what?'

She stopped, with the honeysuckle trembling strangely in her hand.

'He went away yesterday morning.'

'But he will be back? Surely he will be back?'

'Not that I know of. He told Dr. Marcy that he probably never should return.'

The color that momentarily died away from Lucy's cheek came back in a great tide of carnation; she fastened the honeysuckles in with a hand that never faltered.

'Come, girls are you ready?' she said, lightly. 'I have promised myself for the two first dances, and I hear the music already.'

And no one saw how tightly she pressed her hand over her breast, to check the dull, bitter aching of its recesses. Poor Lucy! the consciousness that it was her own fault made it no easier to bear.

It was a bright, snug little boudoir, carpeted with mossy velvet, and shadowed with pink and gold lights from silken curtains and merry morning sunshine, and Mrs. Theodore Wicklow sat in her little rocking chair, with two dimpled hands up to her ears, and her black eye-brows elevated at an angle of accute despair, while six or seven rosy, pretty little ones, of any age from twelve to two, tossed and tumbled and climbed on chairs, tables and bijouterie, like a swarm of noisy human bees.

'I shall go crazy,' said Mrs Wicklow.

But as, according to her own statement, she was reduced to the verge of insanity half a dozen times a day the last assertion produced no sort of impression.

'Mr. Wicklow, do you hear?' demanded the aggrieved little woman of an abstracted gentleman, who was deep in the columns of a morning paper.

'I hear, my dear, I hear,' he responded absently.

'No, you do nothing of the sort,' said Mrs. Wicklow, petulantly.—'You're off in China, somewhere, or you're listening to a debate in the snuffy old English Parliament, or you're running up and down the price lists. Now, will you pay a little attention to me? Charlie, you certainly will break your neck, and I can't mend it! Eloise, let the statuettes alone! Mr. Wicklow, I say! I shall certainly lose my senses!'

'That's nothing new, my dear,' said her husband, dryly.

'But what shall I do?' pleaded Mrs. Wicklow, as two tempestuous little ones, with hair like floating flax, pursued one another over her lap. 'All of these children and no nurse-maid, and such a neuralgia that I can't stir out of the house. Do, please, put down your everlasting newspaper, and give me a little advice.'

My dear, how very unreasonable you are. If you were only aware of it, my everlasting newspaper, as you call it, is the very thing that's going to help you out of our dilemma.'

'I should like to know how.'

'Then just listen.'

'A young woman from the country desires a situation to take charge of children in a respectable family. Wages not so much an object as a good home.

'That sounds very nice,' said Mrs Wicklow, reflectively. 'Where does she advertise from, Theodore?

'An intelligence office, down town.'

'Would—would you go and see her?'

'Certainly not, dear!' said Mr. Wicklow, with a calm decision that dashed his wife's budding hopes prone to the ground. 'I have no time to run over town after nurse-maids. Business, Eleanor—business must be looked after.'

'Perhaps Carl would go?'

'Perhaps he would,' said Mr. Wicklow, in a doubting tone, that brought the vexed flush to his wife's cheek.

'I am sure he would'nt mind the trouble—Carl is so obliging, and here he comes now.'

In the same moment the door swang slowly open on its silver plate hinges, and Carl Wicklow entered.

As brown and handsome as ever, with the same hazel light in his frank eye, and the dark crimped hair tossed away from a square forehead. Eight years have changed him very little, and yet people in society had fallen into the habit of calling Carl Wicklow an old bachelor.

'Hallo!' said Carl, good-humoredly surveying the disorderly scene; 'it strikes me that our children are rampant to-day. Take care, Tommy—your head's pretty hard, but it is not equal to a marble mantle in point of density. My poor Eleanor! you'll be entirely annihilated at this rate!'

'If you would only oblige me, Carl?'

'How?'

Mrs. Wicklow took the newspaper out of her husband's unresisting hands and read the advertisement aloud.

'Don't you think she would suit us, Carl? A country girl you know, would'nt have any of those horrid citified ways that Mary Ann had—and she would be so good to the children.'

'And you want me to go down and secure this paragon for you? is that it, Eleanor?'

'That's just it, Carl.'

'Very well; I may as well lounge away my time in that way as any other. Give me the address—I'll go.'

The intelligence office was crowded with Irish, French, German and English, as Carl Wicklow bowed his tall head to enter—a miscellaneous appearance.

'Is it a cook ye're wantin,' sir?' demanded a ponderous Hibernean.—'Sure I'm the one you're after—wid two years recommend from my last place, and——.'

She stopped abruptly as the pale, sallow little clerk advanced.

'Can I do anything for you to-day, sir?'

'Yes; I believe you advertised a nurse-girl for children. My sister needs such a domestic.'

'Ah, yes—Mary Ryan here!'

A red-haired girl advanced with a tread like that of a megatherium, and a dirty plaid shawl drawn tight around her.

'You'll find this young woman very reliable, sir.'

'Ah—yes—I dare say,' said Carl, a little taken aback; 'but the young person I mean was from the country, and——,

'Oh, I understand, now—I understand,' said the clerk, lowering his voice a little. 'To tell you the truth, she's entirely different from the sort of persons we have here every day—quite the lady, sir—and she's up stairs with my wife, I really hadn't the face to ask her to come down here.'

And the clerk gave his head a little jerk towards the assemblage that lined the walls. 'Walk up stairs, sir, if you please—first door to the right.'

And Mr. Carl Wicklow walked up stairs accordingly, and tapped at the indicated door.

'Come in.'

There was something in the soft ring of the clear voice that made Carl's heart throb a little strangely. He opened the door and went in.

It was a small, low-ceiled room, with red curtains and a glaring red carpet and stiff plaster-of-paris ornaments on the wooden mantel—a vulgar looking, dreary little room, without one home association within its four blank walls, And beside the ash-choked fire, with her fair head inclined thoughtfully downward, sat a solitary woman dressed in a deep black, relieved only by the burnished gold of one stray curl that had escaped from its net and lay over her shoulder.

She arose as he entered, and Carl Wicklow stood face to face with his first love and his last—Lucy Taylor.

She had been very pale at first; but as she met his earnest, astonished gaze, the crimson rushed over her whole face in a bright billow of carmine, and then she bent her head.

'Lucy!'

'You are astonished, Mr Wicklow—scarcely more so, however, than I am. Did you require the services of a children's nurse? You see it was necessary for me to earn my own living; my education was hardly thorough enough to enable me to take a situation as governess, and I am not sufficiently healthy to sew steadly, I will do my best if you will kindly employ me.'

In all the bloom and freshness of her earliest youth Lucy had never looked so lovely in Carl Wicklow's eyes as she did at this moment, with her pretty head drooping, like a lily crushed down by summer showers, and a meek patience in her eyes. He stood there gravely watching her with a strong purpose slowly maturing in his mind.

'Most people fancy I am not strong enough,' she said in subdued accents; 'but indeed I am; and if your wife——'

'I have no wife, Lucy'.

She blushed like a whole flower garden of roses.

'I beg your pardon—you are a widower?

'Nor that either, Lucy. I was speaking only of my sister's children.'

'Do you think I should suit her?'

'I think you won't suit her. No'

A chill shadow of disappointment came on the meek, pale face. Carl Wicklow took Lucy's hand in his.

'My dearest, I think you are determined not to understand me. Mary Ryan down stairs will do very well for my sister's children, for I want to engage you for life!'

'Carl!'

'Yes—you may look astonished, but I'm in earnest! Isn't it as easy to take care of one crusty old bachelor as half-a-dozen children?'

The arch shadow of one of the old smiles began to dimple Lucy's lips—her hand trembled a little in Carl's.

'I thought you had forgotten me long ago, Carl.'

'Did you? Come.'

'Where?'

'To be married!'

And Carl Wicklow—who never did things like any body else—went to the nearest church and married Lucy Taylor!'

'Well, Carl, what luck?' demanded Mrs. Theodore Wicklow, as her brother-in-law came in at night.

'First rate! I've found you a nurse-maid. She's down stairs in the hall with a bundle as big as herself and two band-boxes—Mary Ryan by name.'

'Didn't you find the young person from the country.'

'Yes—I found her, but the truth is, I've married her, and she's now at the C—— Hotel!'

Mrs. Theodore Wicklow opened her black eyes prodigiously wide, and Carl told the whole story.

'You'll call on her, won't you dear?'

'Yes of course, Mr. Carl. How odd you are.'

'Am I? Well, perhaps so. One thing, however, I'm certain of—and that is that I'm very happy!'

A STRANGE CASE.—In Clinton, Illinois, a young woman, over two years ago, after washing windows, was replacing them, when she struck her hand through the glass, running several long pieces into her hand. After several days a physician was called, and as was supposed, the glass all extricated. But it appears not to have been the case, as a large quantity was left in the hand, which soon made its appearance under the skin on her arm and was cut out by her surgeon. It continued spreading until it has extended to all parts of her body. It has been extracted from her eyes, head, arms and feet, and, in fact from all parts of her body. Six months ago it caused the lock-jaw, with which she was afflicted for about six weeks, except that she could drink between her clenched teeth. At present she is a raving maniac more than half the time, and is in such agony as words will not describe, and too incredible to tell. At intervals she is rational, and able to sit up and do some work. Up to the 14th ult., 1,200 pieces of glass had been cut out of her flesh.

TRUE AS PREACHING.

If men and women were willing to live within their incomes, disposed to begin life at the bottom of the ladder, obey the primary impulses of their nature, and enter upon the cares, trials, and pleasures of the domestic circle, bind their hearts and twine their hopes around the family altar, they would be greatly the gainers. But here comes the difficulty—they must live when they begin, just as others are living, or in better style perhaps, who for thirty or forty years have been carefully and economically journeying along until they found they could afford to show off a little. It would be well if our modern fair ones were more willing to do as Eve did, when, with a new creation smiling around her, she and her husband began their housekeeping. We don't believe she thought the house would look too common without a velvet tapestry on her parlor or sitting room floors, nor do we believe she had a chamber maid to nurse and run after little Cain and Abel. There is little doubt, in our mind, she made Adam's trowsers and hemmed his pocket handkerchief, fixed up his Sunday coat, and kept things, generally, nice and tidy in the house. While she was doing this, Adam was probably tending his flock, or working in the garden, fencing his potato patch, and attending to out door things generally. Thus they got along "right smartly" and economically, became quite rich and aristocratic, had many children, lived to a good old age, and died among friends. This after all is the true way for both male and female. Begin upon a small scale and gradually rise from that point. Never begin at the top and come down. -Augusta Press.

SENSIBLE TALK FROM THE SOUTH.—George W. Kendall writes from Texas in the following sensible vein to his old paper, the New Orleans Picayune:

"The lesson which adversity teaches are hard yet they must be learned.—And these lessons are always useful. I know that it comes hard for a young man to walk behind a plow who once rode behind a fast trotter; nor is it agreeable to a young lady to make and put on her dresses all by herself, who formerly had a couple of servants to take these irksome jobs off her hands. Yet I can see no other remedy, at least for those who have simply been ruined by the war, and the list is a long one. That a large majority have accepted the situation cheerfully I am glad to say is true—I mean the situation to earn their own living; all must do it. And there are many who think, and I am one of them, that in the long run it will be all the better for the rising generation of the South—a generation which is to follow one notoriously brought up in ignorance of work and indolence as to any useful occupation. The race of men growing up will be more muscular—the women stronger and heartier—and their children again improve upon the stock. I have never heard that exercise was hurtful, and I have consulted good physicians on the subject.

"How often do we hear people complain that they have been out all day hunting for a servant without success. Had they turned to in the morning, they could have done all their work themselves in a couple of hours, and saved money and shoe leather by the operation. Too many people in the South have been brought up to be waited upon; they must now tie their own shoes, and I repeat that the sooner they begin the better it will be. I know that many think they can escape this state of things by going to Brazil or some other out-of-the-way country; but toil is the common lot of the poor man the world over, so far as I have seen, and in no part of the world is toil as remunerative as in the Southern States of America. Let us work."

WHO can estimate the value of a newspaper? No one, until he has lost it; until the pleasant periodical visits, like the face of a dear friend, bringing such a fund of wit, news and general intelligence, that he is always greeted with a hearty welcome, are withdrawn. It is in one sense, the light of the world, without which the mental universe would be as much in darkness as the terrestrial is without the sun.

There are books, it is true, good, wise, entetaining; but they do not tell us what we want to know of passing events, or direct us to the best place of business. Neither do they inform us who of our friends are passing away or getting married; or who is doing a driving business, or who is bankrupt, or who has sailed from the Eastern Continent, or who has returned from a tour thither, &c.

CALIFORNIA STYLE.—Not long since a German was riding along Sansame street, near Sacramento, when he heard a pistol shot behind him, and heard the whizzing of a ball near him, and felt his hat shake. He turned and saw a man with a revolver in his hand, and took off his hat and found a fresh bullet hole it it.

"Did you shoot at me?" asked the German.

"Yes," replied the other party, "that's my horse; it was stolen recently."

"You must be mistaken," said the German; "I have owned the horse for three years."

"Well," said the other, "when I come to look at him, I believe I am mistaken. Excuse me sir; won't you take a drink?"

WHAT CAN'T A MILITARY GOVERNOR DO?

A military governor, under the reconstruction act, can—

Suppress newspapers.
Silence lectures.
Remove Mayors of cities, Governors of States, Boards of Commissioners, &c.
Can exclude white aldermen and appoint black in their places.
Can take possession of saving banks.
Can enact stay laws and postpone the payment of debts.
Can prohibit the distilation of corn and the sale of liquor.
Can run down city stocks and repudiate city currency.
Can spend $500,000 for registering black voters and ask for $500,000 more.
Can abolish local taxes and regulate the circulation of papers.
Can settle the rate of wages and the price of commodities.
Can disobey the President and insult the Cabinet.

They can do all this, and far more. What they can't do, no one has ventured to say.

Yet an extra session of Congress is called to give more power to these military chieftains; to make them so absolute that for even the President to question the limits of their authority will be a ground of impeachment.

This is what the dog-day Congress is to do. Is it not madness?

LEGISLATIVE BRIBERY.—The corruptness of that political organization which delights to style itself "the party of great moral ideas" is certainly unparalleled. The New York Times, itself a consistent supporter of the party to which a large majority of the New York Legislature belong, says that in '65 the New York Central Railroad wanted a bill passed allowing an increase of fare. It was referred to a committee of five. The chairman was not for sale, but the other four demanded $6,000 apiece for reporting in favor. After much higgling they consented to take $5,000; and this was paid, in greenbacks. One became alarmed by the opposition of his constituents, and refused to vote for it in the Senate, but insisted upon keeping his money, as the price of reporting favorably from the committee. A threat of exposure made him give back the money. When it came before the Senate one Senator demanded $25,000 for his vote, $10,000 in advance, and $15,000 when it became a law. The bill could not be passed without him. The other Senators could not get their money unless it passed, and they insisted that the agent should comply with his terms. It passed, but Governor Fenton vetoed it. So the poor man did not get his $15,000. In the Assembly some members got $1,000 and some $250 for voting for it.

The editor of the Times says:

"The case here narrated is but one of hundreds. Bribery has come to be the rule—it is the regular way, and the only way, in which bills of great money value to corporations or individuals are passed in our State Legislature and in our Common Council, and there is scarcely a man who has ever had occasion to seek the passage of such bills who does not know this to be the fact."

It must have been nearly as corrupt as recent Radical Legislatures in Pennsylvania.

LOGIC OF OPPOSITION.—An old merchant of Naples, named Morelli, who had realized a splendid fortune, formed a resolution never, on any occasion, to lose sight of the walls of the city that had witnessed his growing prosperity. He was a man of great fixity of purpose and fully content with his means, was beyond the reach of temptation; nevertheless the duke set himself the task of overcoming this fancy. With profound knowledge of human nature, he sent Morelli an edict from the king forbiding him under the penalty of a thousand crowns, ever to cross the frontier of the kingdom. Morelli laughed heartily at an order that chimed harmoniously with his own inclination. The joke was not less relished by his freinds, and many were the allusions to the superfluous severity of the duke. Somehow, these jests at length lost their raciness, Morelli ceased to smile, and found himself perpetually recurring to conjecture! What could possibly be the object of the government in placing this singular restraint upon the movements of a peaceful and loyal citizen? A thousand ideas haunted his mind.

He began to lose sleep and health, and in place of those came a morbid desire to do the very thing that had been so strangely prohibited. He gave it sway. Sending a thousand crowns to the duke, Morelli threw himself into his carriage, and traversed into the Papal States. He remained a night, and then returned to Naples. Informed of his return, the duke sent five hundred pounds to the public hospital, and remitted the other half of the penalty, to Morelli, with the words, Opposition augments desire; adding, that the five hundred pounds had sufficed to teach the public how to deal with a madman.

An inquisitive urchin, while reciting a lesson the other day from the sermon on the mount, broke out.

"Mother, did Jesus Christ get two thousand dollars a year for preaching?"

"No my child, he did not get anything."

"Why didn't they pay him?"

"Because he refused to preach politics. The devil offered him a big salary to do it, but he would not accept the call?"

"When did the devil offer him the salary?"

"When he took him up into the mountain and offered him a kingdom if he would join church and state."

THE CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE.

No man will deny that the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors, is hurtful as well to the community as to the individual. Drunkenness has long been a besetting vice among mankind, and, we think, is not more extensively practiced now than formerly. Nevertheless, it is a subject which properly attracts the attention of every man who would be a benefactor to the human race. It is a moral disease which philanthropists have long since tried to cure, but which has thus far baffled their good intentions. Societies have been established for this purpose, pledges have been administered, lecturers have harangued the people upon their short-comings in this regard, but all have proved comparative failures. The last cure proposed is prohibitory legislation. This has been tried in a number of States, but, we are sorry to say, the statistics on the subject, show that there is more drunkenness, now, in those States, than there was before prohibitory laws made it a temptation to engage in clandestine drinking and contraband liquor selling. Prohibitory laws in regard to articles of diet and drink, have always been defied by man. Even the Divine edict, "Thou shall not eat of the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil," was disobeyed. As God's own command failed to restrain man before the fall, how shall human laws restrain him, in his fallen estate? All experience teaches us that sumptuary laws fail to reach their purpose. But there is one cure for intemperance. It is the same that must be applied to the healing of every other sin. It is the proper moral and religious education of the people. Parents, guardians and religious teachers are responsible, in a great measure, for the prevalence of drunkenness. As aids to the education of which we speak, temperance societies are, doubtless, of great use. So long as these confine themselves to the implanting of true moral principle in the minds and hearts of the people, they can do much good. For the principle itself must be rooted in the understanding and affections of man, before his life will be in conformity with such principle. But when such societies desert their legitimate mission and seek to force upon the people, by positive law, what they should inculcate in the mind and plant in the affections, by the efficacy of moral teaching, they not only fail in their purpose, but cause the people to add to the sin of drunkenness, corruption, evasion and secret breaking of the law, and even the heinous crime of perjury. Hence, we are sorry to see indications that the present temperance movement, of which we had hoped so much, is about to end its career in a struggle for political power. It is with unbounded regret that we feel constrained to write these words, but we feel it our duty to warn the true friends of temperance against the fatal mistake which ambitious and unprincipled men are leading them to commit, and only hope that our warning will be as kindly received as it is honestly intended.

VATERLAND!

The Germans are coming! Carl Heinzer, editor of the Boston Pioneer, the most ultra Radical paper in the country, has cut loose from the so-called "Republican" party. The Pittsburg Volksblatt, an influential Radical daily, says that the German "Republicans" must form an alliance with the Democracy. The Iowa German Republican papers take similar grounds and Carl Schurz himself, recommends, in the St. Louis Westliche Post, that the German Radicals vote for the Democratic candidates for legislative and municipal offices. The Germans left their Vaterland to seek a land of liberty, and they will never assist in establishing a worse than Austrian tyranny in America.

A HAPPY FAMILY.

Senator Fessenden, of Maine, and drunken Zach. Chandler, Senator from Michigan, had a sparring-match in the Senate, just prior to the adjournment. The lie was given by Fessenden to Chandler, but the great blood-letter didn't attempt to open Fessenden's veins. A happy family, those Radicals, to be sure!

THAD. ACKNOWLEDGES THE CORN!

A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, who visited Thad. Stevens, at Lancaster, a short time ago, gives an account of his conversation with the Radical leader, in which Stevens is represented to have been very severe upon Butler, Forney and other prominent men in his own party, and to have acknowledged that Pensylvania would be lost to the Radicals at the approaching elections. Stevens took notice of this letter, in his place in Congress, a few days ago, and whilst he disclaimed any intention to censure Butler & Co., he did not deny the authenticity of the statements of the Herald's correspondent and failed entirely to contradict that portion of those statements in which he is reported to have admitted the prospective defeat of the Radicals in Pennsylvania. We, therefore, give the following extracts from the Herald's article, with entire confidence in their truthfulness.

"Question—Is the Republican party well united in Pennsylvania?

"Stevens—I fear that we shall lose Pennsylvania this next election. I do not think we have earnestness enough in the State to unite and draw out the Republican strength, while the Republican portion of our Legislature has been so openly, notoriously and shamefully corrupt that all the honest Republicans in the State are disheartened and disgusted.

"Question—You do not suppose that you can beat New York in corruption, do you?

"Mr. Stevens—I think we could.—Cameron had his men with their handfulls of greenbacks working in the Legislature. He had not fourteen votes in his favor at the close of the election, but soon after he had forty. One man now claims $50,000 for services, and they refuse to pay him. This corruption will certainly beat us here next election unless we can draw out the Republican strength by getting up a furore and excitement on impeachment. Geary, too, hurts us very much. He is an unhappy failure, and his nomination was an unfortunate thing for the party."

Take courage, Democrats! The file leader wavers! We shall capture the enemy, "horse, foot, dragoons" and Charles Sumner! Steady, boys, and charge them in the centre!

ANOTHER GLORIOUS VETO.

The President has vetoed the reconstructed supplemental supplementary Reconstruction bill, and Congress has again shut its eyes, in wilful blindness, and passed the bill over his veto. The veto message is an able document and makes the President's position impregnable. We shall lay it before our readers in our next issue.

SHORTS---POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

RECONSTRUCTION has been reconstructed and the ten excluded States have been turned over to the tender mercies of the late negro slaves. Sambo and Cuffee will soon run for Congress and the Rads. can count on ten states (if not States, ten somethings) for any Negro they may nominate. Already the colored brethren sing:

"Who dat lives in de White House yonder?
Jang malang go lay!
De white trash musn't rule no longer,
Jang malang go lay!"

THE Rads. are so hard up for something to say in praise of their candidate for Supreme Judge, that they boast that he once ruled in accordance with a well settled principle of law laid down in the reports of Supreme Court decisions. Such conduct in a Radical Judge is certainly no recommendation with his party.

THE Democratic State Committee met at the Merchants Hotel, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, 16th inst, and organized with Hon. W. A. Wallace as Chairman and Pearson Church and W. Strickland, Jr., as Secretaries. J. O. Kimmell, Esq., of Somerset, is the member of the Committee for this Senatorial District.

THE Boston Post thus tells the whole story of the Radical opposition to a restoration of the Union:

"Why don't they reconstruct the Southern States,
Who stand repentant, knocking at our gates?
"It seems to me," says Simple, "tis a sin,
Now they've repented, not to let them in."
"It would not do," says Wade; "for past a doubt,
If they come in our party will go out."

SIX thousand voters have been registered in Nashville Tenn., of which number only 1600 are whites. About 400 whites are disfranchised. Brimstone Brownlow ought to be able to win, under such circumstances.

JOHN L. GODDARD, Esq., Grand Master of the Masonic Order in this State, died, at his residence in West Philadelphia, on the 16th inst. He was widely known and highly esteemed.

THE Treasury Department estimates the cost of maintaining the troops used by the Five Monarchs in the "reconstruction" of the South, at forty millions of dollars, for the next year. Go in tax-payers!

THE Valley Spirit, the organ of the Democracy of Franklin county, has been sold by Messrs. Hamsher and Keyser, late proprietors, to Messrs. John M. Cooper, W. S. Stenger and Augustus Duncan. The new firm will be one of the strongest newspaper teams in the State. We send greeting to them and tender our congratulations to the retiring publishers on their release from the yoke editorial.

PERIODICALS.

THE LADY'S FRIEND, FOR AUGUST, 1867.—The August number of this charming magazine opens with a piquant Steel Engraving of a rustic maiden holding eggs up to the light to see if they are fresh. The Steel Fashion Plate for this month is beautifully designed and colored. Then we have numerous Engravings devoted to the Fashions, &c. The Literary contents are interesting and instructive. An illustrated article shows what pretty things in the way of Vases, &c., can be made of common egg-shells. Among the Editorials, we call special attention to the leading article on "Bread—the Staff of Life," with its receipts for making unfermented rye biscuits, rye and Indian cakes, rye puffs, flappers of rye and Indian, &c. A beautiful Steel Engraving will be sent gratis to every single ($2.50) subscriber, and to every person sending a club. Specimen numbers of the magazine will be sent for twenty cents.

Price (with one engraving) $2.50 a year; Four copies (with one engraving) $6.00. One copy of Lady's Friend and one of Saturday Evening Post (and one engraving), $4.00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE GALAXY, for August contains the following articles: "Steven Lawrence, Yeoman," by Mrs. Edwards; "London Amusements," by W. Winwood Reade; "The Zone of Calms;" "Why we left the Homestead," by Sophie May; "Croquet," by L. Clarke Davis; "Burglars," by Clifford Thompson; "Pestallozzi in America," by C. D. Gardette; "Under the Daisies," by Julia Fletcher; "The Leg Business," by Olive Logan; "Waiting for the Verdict," by Mrs. R. H. Davis; "Who invented Sewing Machines?" "The Pacific Railroad," by William C. Church; "Nebulæ," by the Editor. The price of THE GALAXY is $3.50; two copies for $6. Address W. C. & F. P. CHURCH, No. 39 Park Row, New York.

THE OLD GUARD for August is now ready. Besides the story of Mr. Simms and John Esten Cook's battle sketch, we have a variety of articles. One, entitled "The South and Her Faltering Men," by the editor, will attract general attention. "The Basis of American Civilization," by Dr. Van Evrie, is one of the best from his pen. There is a good selection of other articles, which, with Editor's and Book Tables, makes up a very good number. Subscribers to THE OLD GUARD for the rest of the year, get a steel plate portrait of Jackson or Lee. It is for sale by all News Agents, price 25 cents. By mail, $3 per year. Van Evrie, Horton & Co., Publishers.

OLIVER OPTIC'S MAGAZINE: "OUR BOYS AND GIRLS."—This beautiful work for youth has been enlarged to nearly double its former size, and now contains more reading and more illustrations than any other juvenile magazine published in America. The celebrated "Oliver Optic" writes exclusively for its pages. Lee and Shepard, publishers, Boston, Mass. Price $2.50 a year, $1.25 for six months. Published weekly.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—'Peterson' for August, is on our table. It is an excellent number. The ladies are always in the look out for "Peterson", no wonder, for it contains the latest and prettiest fashions, as well as the best and most interesting stories to be found in periodicals of its kind.

SHALL THE NEXT PRESIDENT BE ELECTED BY NEGROES?

Negro suffrage having been forced upon ten States of the Union against the wishes of the lawful governing people and in violation of their inalienable rights, no negro vote that may be cast in the South for a presidential candidate in 1868 can lawfully be counted. The Conservative people of the North should therefore take early action to checkmate the Radical conspirators in the infamous design which they are perfecting to elect a Radical President with negro ballots. Let arrangements be made immediately, under the old State laws, to take the lawful white vote of those ten States, in November, 1868, and if by that vote, added to the Conservative vote of the North, a Conservative candidate shall be in majority, let that man be made President at whatever cost or sacrifices.

This Government was formed by white men for white men and their posterity forever. It is not for a mere handful of grasping and ambitious demagogues to say to the great white masses—"You shall take the negroes into partnership with you, and permit them to dictate to you who shall be your President, your Senators and your Representatives." And this, in substance, is just what the Radical leaders are now saying to the laboring masses of the country. The People will be drones and cravens, indeed, to bare their necks to such an ignoble yoke without a struggle—a death struggle, even, to retain and perpetuate their right to self-government. Let their watchword henceforth be—This Government was made for white men, and it shall be ruled by white men only! —Patriot and Union.

THE assistant commissioner of the Negro Bureau at Nashville, Gen. W. P. Carlin, has issued a circular for circulation among negroes, in which they are informed that in case they lose employment on account of politics they will be provided for by the Bureau until they can find work, and that all expenses so incurred will be paid out of the "special relief fund" appropriated by Congress. Here is a most excellent opportunity for lazy darkies. No doubt hundreds and thousands of them will avail themselves of the opportunity to to get fixed in the Bureau as political martyrs, until they can get work. But how will this sort of business suit our Northern hard-working tax-payers, out of whose pockets is taken this "special relief fund" appropriated by Congress?—Pat. & Union.

THE DESPOT BILL "PASSED" OVER THE VETO.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The President's veto message was received in the House at 2 p. m. The President says he has the same objections to this bill as to the previous one, and the bill was passed over the veto promptly.

There is no foundation for the report that the President intends to call an extra session of the Senate to consider the foreign treaties, which were only submitted at this session as a matter of favor and it was expected that they would be immediately acted upon.

The President's message, vetoing the reconstruction bill, besides taking up the bill seriatim, which it is intended to disprove, embraces an argument to show that the result of the bill, if it shall become a law, must be the repudiation of the debts of the Southern States existing prior to the rebellion.

This argument is based, not upon the hypothesis that the States are to be treated as conquered territory, but upon the theory of the reconstruction act, that there are no legal State Governments existing in the ten Southern States.

The President maintains that if these State governments are destroyed by act of Congress, the legal and logical consequence must be the repudiation of the debts of these States, since the government which incurred the liabilities is wiped out.

The veto message on the reconstruction bill was approved by all the Cabinet except Secretary Stanton.

THE LOST PLANK.—We are told that some of our Republican brethren, upon reading the platform promulgated by the Williamsport Republican Convention, and finding no plank upon the subject of "Manhood Suffrage," inquired of the delegation from this county why it was, and received for reply: "You see, we found that plank considerably shattered and broken by the manifestations of the people at the elections, and we feared to give it place lest it would break the entire platform down. That plank has cast rather a dark shadow over us in Pennsylvania, and it was thought best after considerable and warm controversy to keep it in the shade for the present. We managed to keep the debate in committee, but some how it has leaked through some fool that they had a thundering hot time of it."

This is the only account we have heard of the missing plank. It may turn up in some of the more rabid county conventions, where its advocates have no gag on them. It is evident that the Republicans are frightened at the dark shadow.—Sunbury Democrat.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.—Niggers throughout Poland in America, are paid $3 per head for registering and voting the Mongrel ticket. The Mongrels do not raise this money out of their own party, but satraps commanding the different districts pay it out of the fund appropriated by Congress to meet the expenses incured by their destruction bill. As all the niggers are not yet registered, another appropriation of one million, six hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been made. This amount will no doubt induce the balance of the darkeys to become radicals at once. What a glorious thing for the white tax-payers of the country mongrelism has proved itself to be? They are not only taxed to feed Mr. and Mrs. Cuffee and the little Cuffees, but are compelled to raise money to purchase their votes for the party that is loading them down with taxes. Glorious country! Free people!—Bellefonte Watchman.

NEGRO ASSASSINATION.—The horrible account of the butchery of an entire family in Wake County, N. C., just received, reminds us that atrocities of this description, perpetrated by negroes, are coming from the Southern States with alarming frequency. We can remember nothing like it in former years. In every instance, so far as we have observed, the crime is instigated by a desire to plunder or the gratification of beastly passions. Nowhere do these outrages partake of a political character. They do not proceed from a spirit of retaliation or revenge, and can only be attributed to a growing demoralization among the negro population consisting in a large degree of those who lately were slaves, but now released from almost every form of restraint. Not only this, but the negroes are often the dupes of mischief-makers, itinerant lecturers and political orators, who fill their weak minds with crude notions concerning their personal rights, the laws of property, &c. The influences thus exerted are incidental to the change suddenly brought about in their social condition, and are inevitable. As all must have foreseen, the transition state, while the simple freedmen are being qualified for the duties of citizenship, is fraught with peril, not only to themselves, but to the entire social fabric in which they move. None can predict the end. Those who anticipated a simultaneous revolt of the whole slave population as inseparable from the war with the South, found themselves widely at fault, and we may trust that all similar predictions of wholesale massacres or other atrocities, growing out of the new-found liberty of the race will be as completely falsified by time. Still, the signs of increasing social disorganization manifested in the prevalence of the worst forms of atrocity—lust, murder, and rapine—cannot be regarded with entire composure. The final destiny of the black race now in America presents a problem, of which, at this early day, no definite solution is offered.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

PLEASE TELL.—You are a Radical—a genuine Republican. Tell us—

How do you restore the Union?
How do you preserve a Constitution?
How have you benefitted the negro?
Who was benefitted by the war?
How much better off is the poor man now than before the war?
Do you believe in equal taxation?
Why not exempt the poor working men as well as the rich bondholders?
Which benefitted this country the most—Democracy which made, or Republicanism which destroyed it?
Why tax the poor soldier who fought for his country, and exempt from all taxation the speculator who staid at home and stole from his country?

NEWS ITEMS.

—The cry of distress that recently came up from nearly all the Southern States is now alleviated by gathering of the early crops. The absolute necessaries of life are now within the reach of all, although the poorer classses of the population have experienced severe hardships in the last few months. The Southern newspapers are much cheered at the prospects, and at the same time make grateful acknowledgments of the valuable assistance given their section from the North, without which, they say, many persons must have perished.

—The Springfield Republican tells the following snake story: A child at South Dorset, nineteen months old, caught a green snake nearly two feet long, the other day. ate about three inches of its tail, bit it through the head, and came into the house with the reptile wound about its arm, and the blood oozing from its mouth. The child's mouth was badly poisoned, but it received no other injury.

—An exchange says that over forty thousand Republican voters of Philadelphia supported Judge Sharswood when a candidate on the Democratic ticket for his present position, and that he was then considered sound on all constitutional questions. Judge Sharswood has not changed since that time, and those who relied then upon his ability, integrity and patriotism, do so yet.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FACTS FOR THE PUBLIC,

Easily verified by examination, which we respectfully invite.

1. We have the largest establishment for the manufacture and sale of Clothing in Philadelphia, extending through from 518 Market street to 511 Minor street, and occupied exclusively by ourselves.

2. Our building, having been constructed by us for our own exclusive occupancy, and for the business to which it is entirely devoted, unites all the conveniences and appliances which have been found necessary or desirable.

3. We have an ample cash capital, enabling us to make all purchases for cash and giving us a selection, at the most favorable prices, from the markets of the entire world. IN THIS PARTICULAR WE HAVE ADVANTAGES SHARED BY NO OTHER HOUSE IN THE TRADE. This fact is well known to the entire business community.

4. We sell our goods for cash only, which, though it restricts our business to those prepared to purchase in that way, enables us to give them such advantages as no house doing a different business can possibly offer.

5. A business experience of a quarter of a century has informed us fully of the wants of the public and of the best way to meet them.

6. We employ the best and most experienced Cutters and Workmen in making up our goods—the style, fit and make of which are unsurpassed.

7. All persons, whatever may be their physical peculiarities (unless deformed), can be accurately fitted at once from our stock, in most cases better than by goods made to order, and prices 25 to 50 per cent lower.

8. Our business is large and constantly increasing, enabling us to keep the largest, best assorted and most complete stock of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing in Philadelphia, to which large daily additions are made of fresh goods, replacing those sold.

9. For reasons already enumerated, we can and do sell at prices guaranteed in all cases lower than the lowest elsewhere, or the sale cancelled and money refunded.

10. All goods when offered for sale are represented to be exactly what they are.

11. When buyers are, for any reason, dissatisfied with a purchase made, if reported within a reasonable time, we pledge ourselves, by exchange, refunding of money or otherwise, to give full satisfaction in every case, and request that all such may be reported to us for adjustment.

A CARD FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY, Of Waltham, Mass.

This Company beg leave to inform the public that they commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European Watches are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, European watches are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland, and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and so called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repairs, than their original price. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take them to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered.

HOW AMERICAN WATCHES ARE MADE.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completion of the Watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and competent direction. But the great distinguished feature of their Watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that every succeeding watch must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merits only. They claim to make

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old-fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low priced, and substantial article in solid silver hunting cases, to the finest chronometer; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enameled and jeweled cases; but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be GOOD TIME-KEEPERS. It should be remembered that except their single lowest grade named "Home Watch Company, Boston," ALL WATCHES made by them by a special certificate, and this warrantee is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

ARE FULLY WARRANTED

CONSUMPTION CURABLE BY DR SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.—To cure consumption, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created for good wholesome food, which, by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution. Schenck's Mandrake Pills cleanse the stomach of all bilious or mucous accumulations; and, by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is nutritious as well as medicinal, and, by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repel all disease. If patients will take these medicines according to directions, consumption very frequently in its last stage yields readily to their action.—Take the pills frequently, to cleanse the liver and stomach. It does not follow that because the bowels are not costive they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhœa they are necessary. The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly and allay any irritation. Then all that is required to perform a permanent cure is, to prevent taking cold. Exercise about the rooms as much as possible, eat all the richest food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves; but be particular and masticate well. 2d w

THE GREATEST PAIN-RELIEVER IN THE WORLD.—Warranted superior to any other, or no pay, for the cure of Chronic Rheumatism, Toothache, Headache, Sore Throat, Mumps, Burns, Cuts, Insect stings, Pains in the Back, Chest, and Limbs, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings; also, to take internally for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Spasms, Sea Sickness, Vomiting, and Croup. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, if used according to the directions, and never fails, as thousands can attest. It was first introduced in 1847, and now millions of bottles are annually sold. Every one who has once used it, continues to do so, and recommend it to their friends as the most valuable medicine extant. Certificates enough to fill a dozen newspapers, have been received by Dr. Tobias. His medicine, the Venetian Liniment, will do all that is stated, and more. No one will regret trying it. Those residing at a distance from a physician, will find it a reliable medicine to have on hand in case of accidents. Ask for Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, and take no other. Price 50 cents and $1. Sold by all Druggists. Depot, 56 Cortlandt Street, N. Y. jul19w4.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and the dread disease Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription FREE, by return mail, will please address

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Dr. L. Stork, of Philadelphia, will preach in the Lutheran church, on Sabbath Morning, at 10½ o'clock.

REV. L. Y. GRAHAM, late pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Somerset, preached to a large and highly interested congregation in the Presbyterian church of this place, on sabbath evening last.

EDITORIAL VISITOR.—We had a call, a few days ago, from our friend, Y. S. Walter, Esq., of the Delaware Republican. Mr. Walter is one of the best printers in the State, and is all right on all subjects, politics alone excepted.

AT THE SPRINGS.—Hon. Henry D. Foster, of Greensburg, Chambers McKibben, Esq., Treasurer of Mint, Philadelphia, Col. R. J. Haldeman, Cumberland County, and R. E. Monaghan, Esq., of Chester, are at the Springs.—Hon. W. A. Porter and family, (Philadelphia) are at Mrs. Filler's.

SAD ACCIDENT.—One day last week, as Mr. Samuel Devore and wife, of Londonderry Township, were going to Cumberland, Md., their horse became frightened and threw Mr. and Mrs. Devore out of their carriage, killing Mrs. Devore instantly. This was, truly, a sad accident.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.—The Rev. E. A. Foggo, of Christ Church, Philadelphia, will (D. V.) preach at the Court House, on Sunday next, at 10½ a. m. and 4 p. m. In the afternoon he will deliver a discourse on "Confirmation." In the morning the Holy Communion will be administered. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Stevens is to visit Bedford the second Sunday in August.

ADVERTISING.—Robt. Bonner, writing to the editor of the Troy Whig, says: "All the capital I had when I began to advertise I earned as a journeyman printer; but I was careful to make a paper which, when advertised and introduced, I knew the people would like and continue to buy. I put my money into advertising, I paid cash as I went, and my present fortune is the result."

EXPRESSAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—The following was attached to a package in the Adams' Express office in this place:

TO THE EXPRESS-MAN.

This package contains a duck of a bonnet,
Express-man, be careful, put nothing upon it,
'Tis made of a shoe-string, a straw and a feather,
The whole with a postage-stamp fastened together;
It belongs to a lady both youthful and fair,
Who, like Flora McFlimsey, has nothing to wear.
Beware, then. Express-man, I pray you, take heed,
And forward this bonnet with care and with speed.

STATE FAIR.—The committee of arrangements of the Pennsylvania State Fair Agricultural Society, consisting of Messrs. Hamilton, of Harrisburg; Rhay, of Westmoreland; Longaker, of Montgomery; Bissell, of Allegheny and Rutherford, of Dauphin, met at the Monongahela House, Pittsburg, last week, to complete the necessary preparations for the exhibition of the society in September next.

FEELING GOOD—Our farmers, who are just in the midst of harvest. It is no wonder, for better crops have not blessed their visions for years If the Abolition taxes were not so heavy; if cuffee was not so costly; if the prospects of our country were a little brighter; if we had a metallic currency in place of rags, and if they had their sons back that mongrelism murdered, in its war to free the niggers, and overthrow the Republic, wouldn't they be a happy set of mortals, with their granaries overflowing with the piles of wheat, they are just harvesting, and the prospects of a splendid corn crop?—Ex.

SCHELLSBURG CELEBRATION.—The surroundings of Schellsburg are very beautiful and the country thickly settled, and the people residing there are whole-souled and generous to a fault. On the 4th of July they had an old-fashioned celebration. The town was crowded with people. The Bedford Democratic Brass Band was on hand, and as a mater of course discoursed patriotic music. After the meeting was organized the Declaration of Independence was read by J. H. Whetstone, Esq., and a masterly oration was delivered by Hon. B. F. MEYERS. A copy of the address was solicited for publication. Mr. Meyers was followed by M. A. POINTS, Esq., in a pleasing address. Under the direction of JOHN S. SCHELL, Esq., and other prominent citizens of Schellsburg, the celebration could not have been anything else than a perfect success.—Somerset Democrat.

EDS. GAZETTE:—The farmers have about finished cutting grain, and are now engaged in hauling it to their barns. There has not been, for many years, such a crop of wheat raised in Napier township as the present season has produced. The crop is extra and has been taken off in good order. That staunch old Democrat, and good citizen, Peter Winegardner, has upwards of eight hundred dozens of prime wheat, and several other of his neighbor farmers have large crops. The oats crop is good, and the corn has a fine appearance. The hay crop will be at least one-third heavier this year than last. Fruit, of all kinds, will be scarce, there are but few apples and no peaches, and the cherry crop was lighter than has been for many years. Thinking you would like to know how the crops of grain is in this part of the country, I concluded I would drop you a few lines on the subject. Yours, &c., NAPIER.

THE CANADA THISTLE LAW.—Several of the State Legislatures have lately enacted laws against the Canada thistle, and we trust they all will wherever there is the least danger of its making its appearance.

In our own Legislature, some five years ago there was a similar law passed against this, the vilest of all the encumbrances of a farm—mortgages scarcely excepted. This law provides in effect, that, "Hereafter any individual or corporation allowing the Canada thistle upon his premises from the lands of a careless and thriftless neighbor, may, after five days notice, enter upon any lands where the weed is found growing, cut it, and recover full cost for the labor and trouble."

WHY FOLKS READ LOCALS.—An old "local," who ought to know all about things pertaining to his department, says the people read items of local interest for reasons as opposite as man and wife. A, reads about a fight because he was there, and saw it; B, because he wasn't there and didn't; C, because he had heard about it; D, because he hadn't; while those who had a hand in it, want to know how much of truth concerning them the editor has deemed compatable in its utterance with a continuation of his own earthly career. The consciousness, too, that hundreds of others are simultaneously perusing the same article, and that it is therefore a subject of common thought and conversation, doubtless adds to the zest with which ordinary readers eagerly devour articles that otherwise would have but a dull perusal or no perusal at all.

A LIBERAL LAW.—An exchange remarks: "A majority of the people seem to be in ignorance of the fact that a law was passed last winter providing that every honorably discharged soldier who is a resident of Pennsylvania and who, from wounds contracted while in the service of his country, is unable, on account of disability, to procure a livelihood by manual labor, shall have the right to hawk, peddle and vend any wares, by procuring license for that purpose which license shall be issued to him free of cost. To insure a soldier the benefit of the act, it is necessary that he procure a certificate from a surgeon of the United States army, that he is unfit to make a living by manual labor, and a certificate from a prothonotary of any county in the State that he is the bona fide owner of the goods he sells. Those of the brave veterans who are entitled to the benefit of the act, should make it their business to take advantage of the generous provisions of the bill."

RANCID BUTTER.—We cut from an exchange the following recipe: "To a pint of water add thirty drops (about half a teaspoonful) of liquor of chloride of lime. Wash in this two and a half pounds of rancid butter. When every particle of the butter has come in contact with the water, let it stand an hour or two; then wash the butter well again in pure water. The butter is then left without any odor, and has the sweetness of fresh butter. These preparations of lime have nothing injurious in them."

The same paper says: "We forthwith obtained some of the most rancid butter, and it was bad enough for any stomach that had more sesibility than a wagon wheel. We doctored it as per recipe, and when placed on the table along with new butter, very able judges could not distinguish which was new butter. Here is a fact worth a year's subscription to a paper."

BLOODY RUN SCHOOL HOUSE.—We print below the material parts of a communication in reply to an article which appeared in our issue of week before last, and hope that this will end the controversy:

BLOODY RUN, July 19th, 1867.

Editors Gazette:—Your paper of the 12th of July, contains an article written by a self-styled "citizen" of Bloody Run Borough, dated June the 24th, 1867. The writer attempts to vindicate the conduct of the four School Directors who treated a majority of the tax-payers' petition with disrespect. The Petitioners respectfully requested the School Board to demand rent of Mr. J. Long, Teacher, for his Select School for 1867. Two of the Directors treated the petition with respect, desiring to receive it as it came from the majority of citizens. A majority of the Board rejected the petition. "Citizen" compares the intelligence of the Board with that of "Petitioner." "Petitioner" said nothing about the intelligence of the Directors in his article, he simply rebuked them for not receiving the petition. "Citizen" speaks about the perplexing questions presented to them. He appears to be very much perplexed about the petitioners' request. He certainly must be directly interested in the perplexity of the Directors. "Citizen" further says that nearly all localities contain a class of citizens who are eternally clamoring about the Schools. The petitioners were clamoring for rent for a commodious school house and every liberal and just-minded man will acknowledge that justice demanded rent from Mr. Long. The petitioners have been taxed enormously to erect their School edifice. When Mechanics, Laborers, Doctors &c., have to pay rent for their shops and offices, should teachers claim exemption? "Citizen" says that sixty dollars have been paid by the teacher. This amount was paid for six months, for 1866, and that was obtained by an Exhibition at the close of the Common School term. Furniture being needed for the house, it was expended to obtain it. The pupils merited this furniture for their industry in committing and reciting speeches and dialogues. Thus the pupils themselves paid for their furniture, and this proves that no rent has been paid for 1866. In conclusion I would respectfully recommend to my fellow "Citizen," to advocate rent for our School House, for Select School purposes and any private purpose. The old proverb says, "Take care of the cents and the dollars will take care of themselves."

TO THE FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE IN BEFORD COUNTY.—From all sections of the State, as well as our common country, come the manifestations of awakened interest among the people in the cause of Temperance, and the determination expressed by renewed labors to lessen the personal degradation poverty, pauperism and crime produced by intemperance, and to suppress the traffic in intoxicating liquors, the prolific parents of these evils. The men engaged in the liquor traffic, supported by appetite, love of gain, and large pecuniary resources, perceiving that the success of the Temperance cause will be the death of their business, have convened, and will strenuously resist the movement. It has, therefore, become more necessary than ever for the friends of Temperance to combine for concerted action. At the State Temperance Convention held at Harrisburg, on the 15th of February last, it was resolved that, WHEREAS, The Temperance work is now carried on by a variety of organizations and instrumentalities, acting separately and independently of each other, but animated by a common faith and laboring for a common end; AND WHEREAS, It is deemed advisable, for the utmost efficiency, that a union should be formed, which, whilst leaving each organization free to labor in its favorite method, shall be the recognized representative of all, and form a common bond and a common channel through which the influence of all may be felt in the work of temperance reform. Therefore, an organization named the Pennsylvania State Temperance Union was by the convention authorized and perfected. By means of Temperance Unions in each county, it is intended to carry with increased vigor the principles of Temperance to every portion of the State, and submit them to the enlightened judgment of the people. The undersigned, desirous to form a "Union" that shall prove a common centre to promote unity of action among the friends of Temperance in Bedford county, do most earnestly invite all the Churches, Colleges, Seminaries, Academies, lodges of Good Templars, Sons of Temperance, Temple of Honor, and all the Temperance organizations who hold and teach "total abstinence" from the use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage to be a right practice, and the prohibition in the traffic in such drinks to be the right and duty of the State, to meet by delegates in convention, in the Court House in Bedford, on the 31st day of July, at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of forming a Bedford County Temperance Union, and to consult and devise plans for the promotion of the cause of Temperance in the said county. The Churches, Colleges, and Temperance organizations, &c., above named are requested to send delegates from each, not exceeding ten in number, and all friends of Temperance who may not thus be represented, are also cordially invited to be present and participate in the convention Let all friends of morality and Temperance take immediate steps on the reception of this invitation, to cause delegations to be formed, that the convention may fitly represent the cause in the aforesaid county; and "God, even our God, will bless us."

Sales.

PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE—Farm, Woodland, Town and Out-Lots.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Bedford, the subscriber, administrator with the Will annexed of Eliza Watson, deceased, will expose to public sale, on the premises, on TUESDAY, the 30th day of JULY, A. D., 1867, the following described real estate, late the property of said deceased, all situated in Bedford township, in said county, viz:

1st. A tract of land containing 130 acres and 65 perches, neat measure having thereon erected a Frame Plank House and Log Barn, with about 80 acres cleared and under fence, of which about 30 acres are meadow. This tract is part of the "Poplar Grove" farm, adjoining the borough of Bedford, and lands of George Smith's heirs and the Poor House property.

2nd. A tract of land, being woodland, containing 80 acres, neat measure, adjoining No. 1 and the lands of George Smith's heirs, and Dunnings mountain.

3rd. Fourteen lots of ground, bounded by John and Richard streets, on the South side of the borough of Bedford.

4th. Sixteen lots of ground, bounded by Shelbourn or Bedford and East streets, on the Southeastern limits of Bedford borough.

5th. Ten lots of ground, bounded by John and Richard streets, the Methodist Church grounds and others.

6th. Sixteen lots of ground, bounded on the east by Richard street and on the west by Julianna street, extending south from the borough of Bedford

7th. Also 8 acres and 100 perches, strict measure, adjoining lots No. 5 and 6 on the North, extension of Richard street on the West and the Mill Race on the East.

8th. Also 5 acres and 15 perches, strict measure, adjoining lot No. 9 on the South, and the Mill Race aforesaid on the East.

9th. Also 15 acres and 87 perches, strict measure lying on the west side of Shover's Run, and adjoining lot No. 8 aforesaid.

10th. A tract of land, containing 466 acres 80 perches, neat measure, with a Log House and Barn thereon erected, with about 80 acres cleared and under fence, adjoining lands of Strominger, Stoler and others. This tract is well watered and would make a first rate grazing farm. A part of it is well timbered.

11th. A tract of land, being woodland, containing 77 acres and 80 perches, neat measure, adjoining land of Wm. M. Hall, Esq., on the Ridge south west of Bedford Springs. This tract is composed of two pieces, one containing 20 acres, 80 perches and the other 57 acres—which may be sold separately to suit purchasers.

The above lots are eligibly located and as handsome building lots as have ever been offered in this neighborhood, and will be sold separately or together to suit the convenience of purchasers.

TERMS: One third of the purchase money in hand at the confirmation of sale, and the balance in two equal annual payments thereafter, without interest, to be secured by judgment bond or bonds and mortgage.

The sale will commence at 10 o'clock, a. m., of said day, and, if all the properties are not sold, will be continued on the following day.

THIS WAY FOR BARGAINS.—VALUABLE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE VERY LOW.—The undersigned offers for sale the valuable Farm known as the "Frazey property," situate in East Providence township, containing about 150 acres, more than one-half cleared and under cultivation, and the remainder well timbered. The farm is well watered and has an orchard of good fruit upon it. It is a fine stock farm and there is a large quantity of rock oak bark upon the premises. It will be sold very low, as I am engaged in business which prevents my attending to farming. For further particulars address John Filler, Rays Hill, Bedford county, or B. F. Meyers, Bedford, Pa.
CHARLES J. McLAUGHLIN.
may3m3 New Germantown, Perry co., Pa.

EXTENSIVE PRIVATE SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—The undersigned will sell at private sale, several adjoining and contiguous tracts of land, lying on the headwaters of Dunning's Creek, in St. Clair township, Bedford county, containing 765 acres, now divided into four tracts, three tracts thereof containing respectively 157, 163, and 183 acres and the other, being the Saw Mill tract, containing 262 acres. These tracts will be sold as they are or subdivided to suit purchasers.

The saw mill tract contains a FIRST CLASS SAW MILL, with a never-failing head of water, and is in the midst of a TIMBER REGION unsurpassed for the quality of timber. One other of the tracts contains an enviable site for a TANYARD, with all the advantages of water, and is alongside of Chestnut Ridge, where the resources for Bark are inexhaustible.

100 acres of the land is bottom, mostly covered by large sugar trees, 300 acres are cleared and in a good state of cultivation, and the balance well timbered.

There are THREE DWELLING HOUSES, upon the premises and THREE BARNS, with other outbuildings. The Fruit is choice and in abundance upon some of these tracts. This property lies 12 miles North of Bedford, and in a country noted for its good roads, leading North, South, East and West, to Bedford, Hollidaysburg, Johnstown, and other points, on the Penn'a Central Railroad.

Farmers, Lumbermen, Tanners and Speculators should examine the premises, as these lands will be sold on fair and reasonable terms.

This is NO HUMBUG, but a positive fact.
Gas administered fresh every day.
As the Gas administered by Dr. Porter is prepared in accordance with the purifying method of Dr. Strong, of New Haven, Ct., and Prof. Siliman (late Professor of Chemistry in Yale College), he has no hesitation in asserting that it is attended with no danger whatever.
Persons desiring the services of a Dentist, would promote their own interest by calling upon Dr. Porter, as he is determined to spare no effort to please the most fastidious. Dr. Porter's mode of operating will at all times be of the mildest character, avoiding the infliction of the slightest unnecessary pain, and carefully adapted to the age, constitution, health and nervous condition of the patient.
☞ Special attention is invited to Dr. Porter's scientific method of preserving decayed and aching teeth. H. VIRGIL PORTER,

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING) SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞ none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

GRAND CONCERTS IN AID OF THE MASONIC HALL AND ASYLUM FUND.—The object of these Concerts is to raise funds to build a Masonic Hall in the city of New York, commensurate with the wants of the fraternity, and to erect an Asylum for decayed Masons and the indigent and infirm widows of Masons and their orphans. A large fund has been collected for this purpose, but more is needed, which it is believed will be generously and promptly given by the charitable public, and those immediately interested in the welfare of the Order.
The Management take great pleasure in announcing that their Sixth and last Grand Musical Entertainment will take place at Jones' Wood, on TUESDAY, JULY 30th, commencing at 1 o'clock, P. M., and will be immediately followed by the Grand Distribution of Presents.
OFFICE OF THE GRAND MASTER OF MASONS, OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK,
New York, January 10, 1867.
BRO. G. W. HOLMES—My Dear Sir—"Yours of the 9th instant has been received. In reply I can only state that any enterprise which may be honorably and conscientiously conducted, in aid of the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund of the State of New York, will receive not only my unqualified approbation, but my zealous co-operation. That your enterprise will be conducted with fidelity to your promises I have no doubt, judging from the references which you have given. While I say this, I desire still to declare to you that any effort, no matter how sacred may be the end sought to be achieved, that leads to any violation of the laws of the State, should not be permitted. Let those laws be held in strict respect, a blessing will surely follow, and you will receive thanks of thousands. Thanking you for your kind remembrance of the widows and orphans of our craft, I am
Truly and fraternally yours,
ROBERT D. HOLMES, G. Master.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; altogether composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
